A message from Simon McBeth, eFlow

eFlow is proud to support the North Dublin Schoolboys/Girls Leagues and the Metropolitan Girls League. Both the NDSL and the MGL are important initiatives for over 11, 000 children in North Dublin and we are delighted to be associated with such worthy organisations.

As a company, eFlow understands the important role which sport plays in our local communities. Organisations like the NDSL and the MGL encourage young people to play sport, to socialise and to have fun. More importantly, they promote active citizenship and unite the community.

At a time when people are working harder than ever and have less time to spare, this has never been more important. Over the last three years, eFlow has been involved in supporting local initiatives at grassroots level. We are keen to give something back and to lend our support where we can, to promote healthy living, to assist in cultivating young talent and to support aspiring footballers of the future.

This is reflected in our partnership with the NDSL and the MGL.

It is clear that a wealth of talent, determination and hard work exists among the children in both leagues and the recent victory in the Kennedy Cup, not to mention the success of the Gaynor Cup, is testament to this.

I take this opportunity to pay tribute to the children, the committee and management for their ongoing hard work and commitment.

I'm confident that such determination and hard work will herald further success and achievement in the near future and eFlow is delighted to show its support.

I wish everyone involved continued success for the season. We look forward to developing and enhancing our partnership with the NDSL and the MSL in 2012.

Yours in sport,

Simon
